

I appreciate your offer to include a quote from the Friends of SDSU. Please see the below response:

"Ever since the SoccerCity initiative was introduced, San Diegans have called for an alternative that actually protects the Mission Valley stadium site to benefit the public, not just speculators pursuing a windfall profit. SDSU West provides voters the power to guarantee that this critical site is planned through a public and transparent process, a permanent and sustainable River Park is created and a vibrant university campus is developed that allows San Diego State University to expand and thrive."

"The Friends of SDSU is a diverse group of San Diego business and community leaders, educators and San Diego State University alumni working together to enable SDSU to grow and continue meeting the higher education needs of our region. Further investments in higher education will yield long-term benefits that will positively shape the future of our region – far superior to those created by a short-sighted private development."